

Enterasys Offers Extreme Networks Customers Exclusive No Cost WLAN Upgrade

High-Value, Zero Cost Upgrade Program Includes Maintenance and Support for Extreme Summit Users

Get the very latest software for the Summit WM wireless solution you own today, directly from the company that develops that software: Enterasys Networks. No need to undertake costly, service-interrupting forklifts to expand or upgrade your wireless infrastructure! No need to wait or even change your hardware to leverage new and proven capabilities!

Act now to protect existing investments, simplify the upgrade path to 802.11n and immediately increase performance and security by upgrading your WM Series wireless controllers and A350/A450 access points with significantly enhanced software. With this offer, you can:

- Future-proof your wireless investment with software and hardware from the original equipment manufacturer:
 - Eliminate expensive, service-interrupting equipment replacements and infrastructure rework that often accompany vendor transitions
 - Avoid costly network upgrades when upgrading to 802.11n with simple, one-for-one access point replacements using the same mounting bracket and 802.3af PoE port
 - Evolve your wireless with continuously enhanced software and the latest generation controllers and access points.
- Take immediate advantage of new releases and features not available from Extreme Networks:
 - Improve security and optimize network resources with traffic filtering and policy enforcement at the wireless edge
 - Extend service with integrated guest access
 - Simplify deployments with configuration wizards and automated configuration synchronization between controller availability pairs
 - Enhance your network management with Link Layer Discovery Protocol (LLDP).
- Drastically reduce operational costs using the optional Enterasys Wireless Management Suite to centrally manage multiple controllers, access points and mobile users
- Secure your wireless infrastructure against unauthorized access and misuse, locate mobile clients and view wireless coverage heat maps in real time using the optional Wireless Intrusion Prevention System (WIPS)
- Ensure continued maintenance support. As an additional benefit, Enterasys will honor the balance of your existing standard maintenance contract, for up to 1 year!

So act now to take advantage of this time-limited, FREE upgrade offer, only available from Enterasys.

Why are we doing this? Well, with a 95% customer satisfaction rating we are confident that you will like Enterasys' customer-friendly approach to doing business.
