Enterasys Matrix® Security Module

Limited Time Promotion

A great deal to help you deploy Dragon® sensors and NAC gateways without adding new appliances to your network.

The Dragon Module

The Dragon module provides comprehensive multi-method attack detection with deep packet inspection. It detects all types of network threats, including denial of service (DOS) attacks, and provides full pattern matching, protocol analysis and anomaly detection. Like all Dragon sensors, the Matrix Dragon module supports the Dragon Distributed Intrusion Prevention and threat containment solution.

The NAC Gateway Module

The Enterasys NAC Gateway brokers authentication, authorization, and end-user health analysis so that unauthorized or compromised systems are kept off the network or self-remediated prior to allowing access.

Enterasys Matrix Security Module

The Matrix Security Module fits into the network expansion module (NEM) slot on any Matrix N-Series distributed forwarding engine (DFE), integrating technology into the N-Series without occupying any of the main chassis slots. The Matrix Security Module provides value by leveraging existing networking and security resources. The design eliminates external cabling between network switches and security appliances and conserves space in a 19" rack.
